Agresso Australia's Solution & Service Offerings

Application

AGRESSO offers a fully-integrated Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) solution, providing both operational support and strategic management to organisations and projects that face rapid, ongoing change. Agresso enables organisations to replace multiple, separate third-party and internal business systems, with a complete and integrated, role-focused solution. It is ideal for organisations that need financials alongside a broader range of core functions such as HR, Payroll, Projects and Procurement, all in a single unified business system. The elasticity of the AGRESSO Application also provides the ability to add extra applications in stages, or as required, with no disruption to your business operations.

Consulting

Our passionate team of dedicated consultants all have deep roots in business and technology consulting, implementation, training, and project management. At Agresso we add a unique Australian flair to our consulting approach – we combine globally respected technology strategies and management approaches from Europe, the Americas and Asia whilst asserting locally relevant commercial touches. We deliver strong results for our clients through creativity, fresh thinking and by challenging the status quo. Our inspired consultants go the extra distance for our Australian customers, roaming far and wide to wherever our customer's sites may be, and relocating to ensure the smooth ongoing success of all our endeavours.

Project Delivery

By leveraging a combination of our elastic application's Vita architecture and a rigorous delivery protocol we call

'AIM' (Agresso Implementation Methodology), our dedicated team's ability to swiftly build, support, inform and integrate a seamless solution remains unrivalled. AIM is an agile yet robust process with the necessary gateway reviews and controls in place to keep projects on track, whilst simultaneously providing customers with the understanding and ability to drive and participate in each stage, rather than just respond to the vendor's suggestions. We Implement our solutions with all due integrity and respect for our client's specific needs, and timeframes while ensuring that ongoing business operations are not adversely affected.

Support

Our expertly educated and experienced support staff operate locally from our Sydney Head Office. From here extends a vast global network of experienced AGRESSO support consultants and combined resources from over 100 countries.
